SUMMARY

I am a full-stack web developer with special interests in front-end technology and design. In a previous life, I was a collegiately-trained musician, where I solved both technical and artistic problems through innovation, creativity, collaboration, and persistent focus. I now leverage those strengths into my passion for web development. I'm looking to grow my skills and knowledge with a company that values curiosity, integrity, and zeal.

EXPERIENCE

GENERAL ASSEMBLY — Seattle, WA
Full-Stack Web Developer — Mar 2015 to Jun 2015

After finishing an undergrad degree and copious amounts of research and soul-searching, I decided to explore my constant curiosity for technology. GA was the obvious choice, so I followed my gut instinct, moved to Seattle, dedicated 60+ hours a week to learn cutting-edge skills, and I haven't looked back. In just three months' time, I'm confident in my ability to effectively create, innovate, troubleshoot, and collaborate.

H&M — Bellingham, WA; Spokane, WA
Sales Associate — May 2014 to Mar 2015

As a full-time associate, I assisted in opening the Bellingham location. I provided direct customer service on the sales floor, in the fitting room, and at cash point, using suggestive selling with add-ons and product recommendations. I multitasked and worked effectively with team members to accomplish projects, efficiently rang on registers and handled returns, quickly unloaded and processed deliveries, creatively merchandised products in accordance with visual practices, and counted tills and verified daily and weekly cash deposits.

DANIEL P. SMITH VOICE STUDIO — Bellingham, WA; Spokane, WA
Voice Instructor — Mar 2014 to Current

I instruct private voice clients using a specialized, functional vocal technique. My coaching experience includes repertoire in pop, jazz, R&B, soul, folk, and classical. I also teach complementary musicianship skills, such as foreign language diction (French, Italian, and German) for classical repertoire, sight-reading, and rhythm and ear training skills.
